PRESIDENT ELIOT. He is Roundly Abused by all the Roston Papers.

Boston, February 25th .- Professor Eliot, President of the Harvard University, is in hot water with the press of Boston. He has never been on the best of terms with the newspapers and on last Saturday night placed himself in a bad light. He attended the annual dinner of the Harvard Club at Philadelphia. The affair was nearly over and he had spoken, when Editor Clark Davis of the Ledger, a Harvard graduate of '79, responded to the toast of "The Press," and in his speech eulogized the journalists on the good use they made of their power.
When he had concluded, his speech

President Eliot arose and asked per-mission to make a few remarks, which was granted, and to the surprise of all he launched forth into a violent attack upon reporters as a class. He said he was aware that there were special schools where journalism is taught, but he was not in avor of them.

The course for the B. A. Degree was good enough for journalism. College men were not expected to serve as reporters. They should be given something higher, and could not be expected to associate with the class of men who are reporters. The heads about 100 miles out and escort them to the city, where they will be met with music and banners flying. class of men who are reporters. The heads of newspapers did not give enough attention to the character of the men they employed in this capacity, and as a result the newspapers are constantly teeming with gross inaccuracies.

He said the men who are employed as reporters in Boston are drunkards, thieves, dead-beats and bummers. He knew four men who had been expelled from Harvard who found places on the Beston newspapers as reporters. One of these men had been expelled for stealing, another for drunkenness, a third for being connected with a disgraceful row in a low house and the fourth they had been want-ing to get rid of for some time. These men, he said, were types of the reporters of newspapers.

The remarks were received in silence.

A Young Woman Who is Able to Take

HARTFORD (Conn.), February 25th .- Nellie Patterson, one of the prettiest girls in the village of Mount Carmel, has just completed a four years' apprenticeship to the machinist trade. To-day she is working at the lathe and vice in the factory of the Mount Carmel Belt Company, and there is not a mechanic in the whole shop who can lo a better job or in less time than the fair oung workwoman. Four years ago, when dies Nellie began to think of the means whereby she must earn her daily bread she looked over the whole field of woman's 80 ROOM HOUSE ON K STREET, IN THE which pushing women of this country have made their own there was none which she especially liked. She was a bright girl, with a great deal of Yankee cleverness and considerable ingenuity and inventiveness The remark was made by a friend that as she was so fond of inventions she ought to become a machinist. The seed thus idly sown took root, and she applied for a place as an apprentice. For the past four years she has worked faithfully, and a few days ago her time expired and she is now a fullledged machinist. She is able to block up piece of work on a planer or turn up an rbor on a lathe. She uses a drill or handles a file as well as any man in the shop. Her specialty, however, is tool-making, and to this she proposes to devote herself. She can also draw out plans, fig-ure out dimensions, and from working drawings she can make anything. not afraid of the grease and grime of the T able city property, a wheat ranch of 1,290 acres near Williams, Colusa county. Buena Vista (Col.), February 25th.—A messenger came to town from Brown's canvon, a few miles below this place, who gave the particulars of a suicide that ocbeen married to a sister of his brother's wife. About the hour set for the marriage ceremony, the young lady told him that she had changed her mind, and would not marry him, whereupon he left the house and went to the home of Mr. Erhardt, a farmer for whom he had been working. Stopping at the granary he took a dose of strychnine from a bottle which was kept for the purpose of killing wolves. From there he went to an old cabin close by, and CHICAGO, February 25th.-The Farmers Review in its next issue will say: Thus far the reports of our correspondents indicate, with the exception of a tew counties, the condition of winter wheat, which averages high in all the States covered by our re-port. The only discouraging reports come from Michigan and Wisconsin, where a general complaint is made of the damage to wheat by the changeable weather during the past month. A few counties in Kansas report some damage from the Hessian fly, but the majority of the reports predict a heavy crop for 1890.

A Wealthy Vagrant. JERSEY CITY, February 25th.—Ewald Osterman, aged 26, claiming to be an Eng-Osterman, aged 26, claiming to be an Englishmen, was committed for three months to-day as a vagrant. When stripped at the prison a money belt was found containing five hundred pounds in Bank of England notes, and diamonds worth at least eighteen hundred dollars. The warden took charge of the property. Os-terman is unable apparently to give a lucid account of himself. He wore a hat bearing a San Francisco hatter's stamp. An effort is being made to discover his friends.

THE WORST CONFIRMED, Greater Flood than the One Which Destroyed Johnstown. PRESCOTT (A. T.), February 25th .- The failure of the messenger to arrive yester-day with further particulars of the great isaster on the Hassayampa river, had a endency to engender a feeling of hope that the first news was exaggerated, and that the catastrophe was not as bad as at first reported. Such hopes were, however, dis-pelled shortly before midnight, when the messenger arrived with reports of the dis-aster made by Sheriff O'Neill, which are ROUARK'S RANCH, February 24th .- The scene of desolation along the Hassayampa below the sites of the dams beggars decription. A tornado could not have made such a complete wreck. For miles the waters turned free by the breaking of the dams have filled the bed of the creek with enormous boulders, trees, cactus, and every other kind of debris.

H. S. VanBuren, President of the Wal nut Grove Water Storage Company, and his daughter and niece, for whose safet grave fears were entertained are among the survivors, as they were far from the scene of danger when the dam broke. The number of persons killed is now known to be thirty-eight, including eight Chinamen. It is believed that the total loss of lite will be between fifty and sixty. The bodies thus far discovered number about a dozen, many of which were found twenty or thirty miles below the place where the flood overtook them. All the remains are more or less mutilated, while in several cases only fragments have been discovered. Many bodies have doubtless been buried n the sand and others carried far to the flood say it came down in almost a per pendicular wall ninety or a hundred fee high, and apparently crushed down in stead of sweeping away everything before Immense boulders, weighing tons, were thrown around as a child might throw a ball. Enormous trees were broken or torn into shreds. Iron bars were broken or twisted out of shape, and a piece of flat iron was picked up and carried five miles, and then imbedded in the wall of the canyon eighty feet above the present level of the stream. A large safe belonging to Robert Brow containing in the neighborhood of $7,000 to warn the inhabitants at the latter point that the former structure was in danger of breaking, but owing to the storm and dark-ness the messenger, William Akard, could he had tried to save. The survivors are in the greatest destitu ion, having neither provisions nor cloth

LATEST FROM WALNUT GROVE. Loss of Life and Destruction of Property Underestimated.

PHENIX (A. T), February 25th—Additional information from Walnut Grove, the scene of the disaster of Saturday, is to the effect that the loss of life and property is greatly in excess of the first reports. Conriers who have just arrived bring the news that the entire Hassayampa valley, from the main dam to where the river forms a inection with the Gila, a distance of 100 junction with the Gila, a distance of 100 miles, is a scene of desolation rarely ever witnessed in the world.

The valley along the Hassayampa was settled largely by Mexican miners, sheepherders and cattle-men, and the loss of life among this class is difficult to obtain.

Fifteen bodies were found to-day, nearly every one being nude, not one of whom could be recognized. The Mayor of Phoenix

COURT-HOUSE BURNED.

Superior and Probate Court Records all Destroyed. VANCOUVER (Wash.), February 25th .- At a quarter before 1 this morning the county Court-house was discovered on fire. The high northeast wind soon set the whole south balf of the building in flames. The fire engine arrived too late to be of much service. The fire spread so rapidly that there was but time to save the five prisoners confined in the jail, which was in the basement of the building, three of whom were carried out half suffocated.

were carried out half suffocated.

Mr. Burnett, one of Sheriff Flemming's assistants, saved himself by jumping from a second-story window and was badly burned though apparently not seriously. The fire started, from appearances, in the southeastern part of the building in the first story and spread with inconceivable rapidity. The building, which is partly stone and partly brick, is a total loss. It was insured for $25,000, though costing $51,000.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

The "lock-in" of the late stormy weather put some of our interior contemporaries to their wits end to secure paper for their editions. The Scott Valley News comes to us on pale manila paper, of rather agueish hue; the Mt. Shasta Herald appears upon dark orange-colored "news," of light weight, and glows like a sun in its yellow weight, and glows like a sun in its yellow brilliancy; it is a half sheet for obvious reasons. So, too, the Yreka Union arrives after thirty days elapse, reduced in pages and printed upon cream tint "poster news." These make-shifts only testify to the energian of the country powership was and his gy of the country newspaper man and his capacity to get out his paper, no matter to what a narrow corner he may be driven by hard winters and the blockade of the usual means of transportation

Snowing Again on the Mountains.

A heavy snow-storm set in yesterday in the Sierras on the line of the Central Pacific east of Summit, and extending as far over as Reno. West of Summit everything was clear. The storm continued all day and at last accounts last night there had been no let-up to it. The railroad com-pany, however, kept the plows at work on this section constantly, and the road was kept passable despite the unusually heavy fall of snow. All passenger trains went out as usual yesterday and last night, and the incoming ones arrived nearly on time.

All freight trains, though, were held on both sides and will not be moved until the water-works be connected by telephone with the corporation house. The cost, he with the corporation house. The cost, he said, would be about $300.

He also suggests that fusible switches be placed in each circuit, and a "protector" be placed in connection with the same, which would place the system free from danger of being injured or interfered with by electric light and other heavy currents.

More Bonds Purchased.

City bonds bearing 6 per cent. interest and to run three years yet, were on Saturday purchased by the Funded Debt Com mission of the city to the amount of $2,300.

They were bought for 95 cents on the dol-the dollar, those on which interest matured "away back" should be purchasable at a very low figure.

TEN LATE DECISIONS FILED BY THE SUPREME COURT.

The Sacramento District Clerk Gets Benefit-Cases Covering Various Points of Law.

The following Supreme Court opinions were filed in Deputy Clerk Williams' office in this city yesterday for the Sacra-

Eaton (respondent) vs. Richerie. This is a Tuolumne county case, and an action to recover for services rendered. The trial Court gave judgment for plaintiff, and the defendant appeals. Defendant agreed to pay plaintiff at the rate of $3 per day, such payment to be made in provisions and sup-plies, and for any balance that might be due plaintiff, plaintiff was to wait until the mining property was sold or until a sum sufficient to pay plaintiff said balance was realized from said mine.

Plaintiff rendered services during a long period and only portion of the price was paid, leaving a balance of $1,490 05. After the services had ceased a contract of sale was made of the mine for $15,000, which contract was signed by defendant, and the sum the sufficiency of the transfer to the defendant. Judgment and order are affirmed. THE VERDICT WAS CORRECT. Jue Fook Sam vs. Lord is a Nevada Jue Fook Sam vs. Lord is a Nevada county case, in which judgment was entered in the Court below in favor of plaintiff on February 20, 1889, for the sum of $774.74 and costs, and defendant appealed therefrom to this Court on April 8, 1889. The complaint states facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action, the verdict of the inverse and the independent jury covers all the issues, and the judgment follows the verdict. There is, therefore, no merit in the appeal from the judgment Order of the lower Court affirmed. A PROMISSORY NOTE CASE. Graham (respondent) vs. Larimer. This is also a Nevada county case, and is a suit on a promissory note made by defendant, payable on demand to James Ward, or order. The note was twice assigned before June 4, 1888; first by Ward to George Lord, and second by Lord to plaintiff, who demanded payment on June 4, 1888.

Among other defenses the defendant pleaded: That said promissory note was signed on a void, illegal and invalid consideration, in support of which she shows that on June 2, 1888, said James Ward was about to prosecute one Robert Larimer, brother of defendant, on a charge of felony; that said Ward then and there promised and agreed with defendant that if she would sign said note he would refrain from such prosecution and keep silent as to the assignees of the note had notice of the character and illegality of the consideration at the time of the assignment of the note to him. Judgment was rendered for the plaintiff for the full amount of the principal and interest of the note and for personnel and interest of the note and for the character and illegality of the consideration. The foundation is now being laid. The plan of the house is entirely different from any other in the city, and the carpenters say it will be an elegant structure in appearance, as well as substantial and spanish the consideration of the foundation is now being laid. The plan of the house is entirely different from any other in the city, and the carpenters are the consideration. costs, from which, and from an order denying her motion for a new trial, defendant appealed.

The Supreme Court reviews the case at length, and in conclusion comes to the opinion that for an error in sustaining the objection to the cross-examination of Lord, gment and order should be reversed and a new trial granted.

AN ADVERSE CLAIMANT'S SUCCESS Kitts (appellant) vs. Austin, another Ne vada county case, and an action to quiet title. The defendant set up her adverse claim, and judgment passed in her favor, from which, and an order denying a new trial, plaintiff appeals. The judgment and order are affirmed.

SUIT AGAINST AN INSOLVENT. In re Bowman, insolvent. This is a Nevada county case, and is an appeal by certain creditors of the insolvent debtor Bowman, from a judgment granting him a discharge in insolvency, and from an order denying their motion for a new trial of the issues raised by the opposition to his peti-tion for a discharge. Judgment and order

Cleghorn (appellant) vs. D. Zumwalt, a Colusa county case, and an action to re-form a deed. Judgment for defendant and plaintiff appeals. The case comes up on the judgment-roll. It appears from the findings that in October, 1885, Mary Cleghorn, then a minor, was the owner of an undivided one-tenth interest in a quarter-section of land, which she had inherited from her father; that upon the death of her father a one-half interest in said land passed to her mother, who also died in October, 1885; that in the course of the settlement of the estate of the mother, the said one-half interest so held by the mother was, by an order of the Probate Court, duly given and made, set apart to and declared to be the property of said Mary, but she was then advised by her counsel that this order only gave her the use of the property during her minority, and that upon her becoming of age her brothers and sisters would take each a one-fifth interest therein, the same leaving one-fifth to her, thus vesting in her at her majority, two undivided tenths, or one one undivided fifth of the whole title

The Supreme Court reverses the judg ment and orders the case remanded, with instructions to the Court below to enter judgment on the findings in favor of plaintiff, as prayed in the complaint,

ALL IN A NUTSHELL. De Noon (respondent) vs. Morrison et als. An action to recover the possession of There was a trial by jury, a verdict and judgment for plaintiff, a motion for a new trial made and denied, and defendant appeals from both judgment and order. The Supreme Court affirms the judgment and order.

Clark (respondent) vs. Brown et al. An action commenced in the Superior Court of the county of Stanislaus, in which two of the defendants resided. It was a suit over a mine. The order is affirmed.

SUIT AGAINST A SHERIFF. Lukeforth (respondent) vs. Lord. This is an action against the Sheriff of Nevada county, for the recovery of the sum of $4,000 damages, for the unlawful conversion of a stock of merchandise. The Sheriff justifies under an order of attachment, and sub-sequent judgment in the Superior Court of San Francisco, in a suit wherein George D. Cooper was plaintiff and L. M. Lukeforth was defendant. No exception is taken to the regularity or legality of the proceed-ings or writ in that case.

The goods were levied upon as the property of L. M. Lukeforth, the judgment debtor, but found in and taken from the possession of E. G. Lukeforth, the plaintiff

The action was tried before a jury, verdict and judgment in favor of plaintiff in the sum of $3,000, motion for new trial made and denied, and defendant appeals.

Judgment and order are affirmed.
In concurring with the opinion Justice Works says: "I concur in the judgment, but do not agree to what is said in the opinion of Mr. Justice Fox as to the manner of entering an exception to the giving of instructions. I think the record sufficiently shows that the exceptions were properly taken and in time. It was enough that the Judge was notified that the appellant excepted, and the record shows that this was done. It was not necessary that the exception should have been entered at the time by either the Judge on the

The sixth annual meeting of the Directors of the Marguerite Home was held the lodge hall, on Eighth street, between it is learned that the invested funds amount to $80,000, from which is derived an annual income of $7,000. The expense of maintenance for the past year was $6,057 44. The management of Miss Safford, the Matron, was especially commended. During the year no deaths have occurred, a somewhat remarkable circumstance when the advanced age of the fifteen occupants of the Home and the epi-tract was signed by defendant, and the sum of $5,000 was paid on account.

The Supreme Court holds that the time of payment specified in the contract had arrived when action was brought, and that the two of "sold" does not necessarily mean that a conveyance must be made or that title must pass. The judgment and order denying a new trial are affirmed.
